The Time for Brotherhood is Now!

This is a very exciting time for the Chi Chapter of Kappa Sigma. Our undergraduate chapter returned to campus in a big way. We now have 85 brothers and pledges, and expect by the end of fall, to have between 110-120 members, making us one of Purdue's largest fraternities. Kappa Sigma is a very desirable fraternity for young men, and our chapter has been fortunate to select quality young men to join our Order.

Our chapter has been well received by the others in the Greek system as demonstrated by the Gamma Phi Betas choosing us to be their social partner for Gala Week. At the time of Gala Week, the chapter was operating out of half of the fraternity house and was occupied by 30 brothers. This was just one indication of our strength as a chapter.

Since half the house was renovated by February of this year, the House Association made the decision to proceed with Phase 2 of the chapter renovation. The decision was based upon faith in our alumni to step to the plate and make it happen financially. It was really a "now" or "never" decision.

Phase 2 has a "bricks and mortar" cost of $1,525,000, but by adding furniture, landscaping, interest and fundraising costs the total cost is $1,900,000. With recent and anticipated payments from pledges and additional borrowing from Bank One we have the funds to pay $1,465,000 of these costs. This leaves a deficit of $435,000 in cash that we need from in new cash contributions.

Currently 333 brothers have made pledges of $2,620,000 towards the rebuilding program. (We have an additional $250,000 contribution to the University that will eventually be available for scholarships). Of the existing pledges, $475,000 remains to be paid, of which $150,000 is currently due. In order to pay our bills we need three things to happen:

1. Brothers need to bring their pledge payments current.
2. Brothers need to consider making early payments and commit to paying as much as possible over the next two years.
3. New contributions need to be made by brothers that have not contributed to this point.

If we can encourage an additional 100 brothers to contribute $1,000 to $25,000 a piece, at an average of $2,500, roughly $250,000 will be generated. This is enough to pay for the completion of the base building. Collections on amounts currently due and early payments along with the new pledges will allow us to complete what could be the best Chapter House on campus, as well as pay all our associated bills.

Many of us got hurt in the "Tech Wreck" that hammered the stock market over the last 15 months. However, our campaign does not allow us time to wait for the stock market to recover. We respectfully ask for you to do what you can today. To do so, please complete the attached pledge form. Or make an online pledge located on our website at www.chikappasigma.org. While you're there, take a look at photos of the latest renovations, building plans, homecoming information and the alumni directory.

Don't Delay!!

Homecoming is October 27th! We'll be celebrating the grand opening of the newly renovated Chi Chapter House! Also the Boilermakers will be playing Northwestern!

Make your reservations as soon as possible. We want everyone to attend and share in the historical moment we have all been working so diligently towards. For a full listing of area hotels and phone numbers please contact Dave Corey at 317-580-9931.

Send Us Your Email Addresses!!

The Chi Chapter would like to increase the amount of valid emails we have for our alumni. To that end, we are sponsoring an email address contest. Send us as many valid email addresses for active chapter brothers as you can find! Whoever sends in the most (at least 10 valid addresses) will win an official NCAA football autographer by Purdue coach Joe Tiller. All entries should be emailed to Tony@FMGTucson.com. The winner will be announced at Homecoming.

Brothers,

Kappa Sigma has returned to Purdue's campus in a very strong fashion. In just a year and a half, we have grown from zero to 85 men. By the end of Fall Rush, we expect to have over 110 men and be one of the largest and highest quality fraternities on campus. Sororities are already taking note; the Gamma Phi Betas paired with our Chapter for Gala Week in the half-renovated house.

In another year our membership will be such that we won't be able to accommodate everyone in the Chapter House but at the moment we are still growing a chapter.

There will be room for a few boarders this fall in Chi's newly renovated Chapter House. We invite you to refer to us your children, grandchildren and relatives or any other young man you know that wants to enroll at Purdue but does not have a housing commitment. They will not be required to join nor is there guaranteed a bid to join Kappa Sigma. The terms of the boarders' housing contract will be flexible.

Our $2.8 million renovation of the Kappa Sigma Chapter House at 308 North Street is expected to be completed by Homecoming 2001. The facilities will be superior to other fraternities and most dorms on campus. Parents can take comfort in knowing that we will have a resident advisor and the entire house is protected by fire sprinklers. It will be a proper academic environment and the fraternity will not serve alcohol at functions in the house.

In closing, being a part of the chapter's recent evolution has been an extremely rewarding experience. I have enjoyed serving as the Alumnus Advisor and encourage all Chi alumni to rally behind the undergraduates and contributing alumni in making this chapter a thriving success.

Jack Jackle '39 graduated from Purdue in 1948 with a degree in mechanical engineering. World War II interrupted his college days as he left school to serve in the Army as a pilot instructor. Brother Jackle has been retired for 15 years and enjoys spending time with his family and working around the yard. Jack and his late wife Elizabeth have five children (two have since past), four grandchildren and one great grandchild. Before his retirement, Brother Jackle worked for Southern Company Services as a senior quality engineer. (1568 Bent River Circle, Birmingham, AL, 35216-5392, H: 205-988-0566)

Dr. Chuck Leffert '41 has published two books in the past few years. His first book called "Time and Cosmos" refers to the creation and universe as an alternative theory to the Big Bang theory. His second book is titled "Evolution of Universe". More information on his books can be found at www.anoka-publishing.com. Brother Leffert is now retired after being a professor of chemical engineering at Wayne University in Detroit. He now enjoys spending his days with his wife Penny and going fishing. (1302 Wrenwood Drive, Troy, MI, 48084-2688, H: 248-642-5625, F: 248-540-9296, c_leffert@wayne.edu)

Living in Hilton Head, South Carolina, Brother Haase has been able to enjoy his retirement by playing golf on some of the nicest courses in the country. Harold was the president of the USX Realty Development division for U.S. Steel before his retirement 11 years ago. He graduated from Purdue with a degree in engineering in 1951.
